MICHAEL W. DOBBINS
CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURTGOVERNMENT'S MOTION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME IN WHICH TO RETURN INDICTMENT

The UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, by its attorney, PATRICK J. FITZGERALD, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, respectfully moves this Court for a 60-day extension of time in which to return an indictment or information in this case under the Speedy Trial Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(8). In support of this motion, the government states as follows:

1. On April 29 and April 30, 2002, defendants were arrested pursuant to a criminal complaint that charged them with conspiring to knowingly possess with intent to distribute approximately four kilograms of heroin, in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Section 846.

2. On April 30, 2002, an initial appearance was held before Magistrate Judge Levin. On May 3, 2002, a preliminary hearing and detention hearing were held. Judge Levin found there was probable cause to proceed with the charges in the complaint. Judge Levin further found that defendant Figueroa should be detained pending trial and defendants Rodriguez and Alvarez should be released on bond with various conditions, including electronic surveillance.

4. The Speedy Trial Act mandates than an indictment or information be filed within 30 days of the date of a defendant's arrest. 18 U.S.C. § 3161(b). In this case, an indictment or information should have been returned against defendants on or before May 30, 2002.

5. The Speedy Trial Act permits a court to enlarge the 30-day time period if the court finds "that the ends of justice served by taking such action outweigh the best interest of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial." 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(8)(A). Among the factors identified by Congress as relevant to this determination are the following:

Whether, in a case in which arrest precedes indictment, delay in the filing of the indictment is caused because the arrest occurs at a time such that it is unreasonable to expect return and filing of the indictment within the period specified in section 3161(b), or because the facts upon which the grand jury must base its determination are unusual or complex.

18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(8)(B)(iii); and

Whether the failure to grant such a continuance in a case which, taken as a whole, is not so unusual or so complex as to fall within the clause (ii), would deny the defendant reasonable time to obtain counsel, would unreasonably deny the defendant or the Government continuity of counsel, or would deny counsel for the defendant or the attorney for the Government the reasonable time necessary for effective preparation, taking into account the exercise of due diligence.

18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(8)(B)(iv).

6. The government submits that a 60-day continuance is warranted in this case, pursuant to these factors and others, for two reasons. First, such a continuance will give counsel for the defendant and the government the necessary time to attempt to resolve this case prior to any indictment or with limited use of the grand jury, thus saving grand jury resources. Second, such a continuance will give the government sufficient time to investigate the additional information [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Based on this need for further investigation, it would be unreasonable to expect the government to complete its investigation and to have the indictment or information returned and filed within the four-week period specified in section 3161(b).

7. Accordingly, the government respectfully requests a 60-day extension of time in which to seek the return of an indictment or information in this case, and asks that the Court order an exclusion of time under the Speedy Trial Act until Tuesday, July 30, 2002. A draft order is attached to this motion.

Respectfully submitted,

PATRICK J. FITZGERALD
United States Attorney
